

Reveal Radical Weapon

Candidates Told Of New Discovery

NEW YORK (AP)—Thomas E. Murray, former atomic energy commissioner, tells of a "third generation weapon, as radically different from the H-bomb as the H-bomb was from the Hiroshima type A-bomb."

In an open letter released Thursday night to presidential candidate Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy, in which Murray again urged resumption of nuclear tests the former AEC head said:

"The new weapon will not be a larger and more efficient H-bomb, nor a smaller and more efficient A-bomb. It is primarily anti-personnel in destination and effect. And it need not create suicidal hazards for the country that employs it."

Murray also said: "I take it for granted the Soviet Union is developing nuclear technology along this revolutionary line."

In Washington, some unidentified nuclear physicists speculated that Murray was talking about what has been called a "neutron bomb"—a weapon that would actually be a small, mobile, nuclear reactor and a junior-sized version of reactors already used to propel submarines and to generate electricity.

The AEC refused to comment on the statement by Murray, who headed the commission from 1950 until 1957.

In Chicago Thursday night a nuclear physicist said Murray "doubtless refers to the neutron bomb, two different sizes of which on the drawing boards have been openly referred to as 'dove' and 'starling.'"

Knob Noster High School Plan Studied

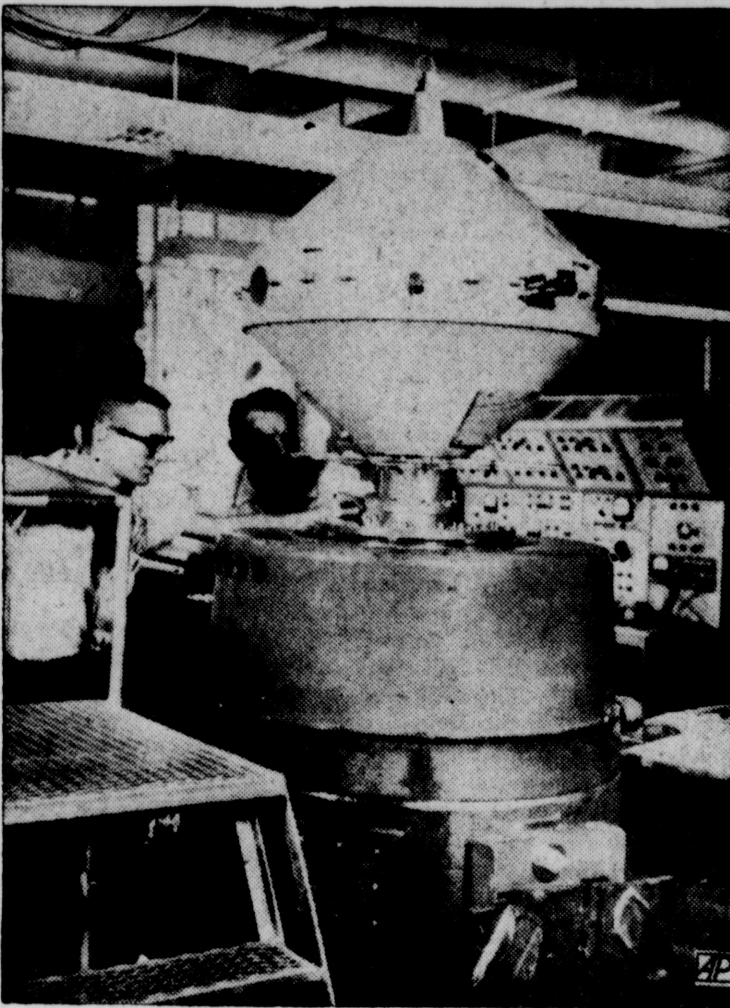

The Knob Noster Board of Education, in a meeting with Mr. Royer of the architectural firm of Hewitt and Royer of Kansas City, studied plans for Knob Noster's new high school, being designed as a tri-level building located on the hill at the southwest corner of the school site between Washington and State Streets. The building would face northwest, fronting on Washington Street.

At the south end of the building a seven-room wing will be constructed above the main building, extending southeastward, to be used to house elementary pupils. The main entrance will be on the west side near the south wing. Just to the left of the entrance will be the offices, the study hall-library, the commerce department and 12 classrooms. There will be two classrooms, a science laboratory, an art department, a home economics department, the cafeteria and furnace room downstairs. The entrance to this lower floor will be through the gymnasium lobby.

The gymnasium is being planned to seat 1200 spectators with permanent bleachers on the south side, retractable bleachers on the north, and a stage at the east end. There will be a corridor along the south side of the gym with the kitchen, girls' locker room and Industrial Arts Shop outside this corridor. The music department and boys' locker rooms are designed at the east end of the gym, with the coaches offices in that area.

On Friday, Oct. 28, three members of the board, Malvern Lynde, Leonard Clark, and Jack Young, accompanied by Supt. Jageman, met with Mr. Royer in Jefferson City at the office of Dr. George D. Englehart, director of School Building Services, State Department of Education, to get his comments and suggestions on the blueprints. After examination and discussion, some changes were considered important to the convenience and desirability of the plans. The architects are now actively engaged in drawing plans of a permanent nature so that final approval can be made on the school's application to the United States Department of Education. This approval is necessary by Nov. 21 in order to get bids let and construction started in the spring.

Secret Cable Published

Kasavubu Assails UN's Congo Role

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United Nations today published a hitherto secret cable from Congo President Joseph Kasavubu assailing the U.N. role in the troubled African country. He accused the U.N. command of encouraging the supporters of deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba by blocking his arrest and prosecution.

Kasavubu's charges were made to Ambassador Frederick H. Boland, president of the General Assembly, in a message dated Oct. 13. In other cables to Boland, the Congo president protested proposals now pending to have the assembly seat a delegation representing Lumumba.

The disclosure of the messages came 24 hours after Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld laid before the assembly a report of his special Congo representative, Rajeshwar Dayal, blasting the

Young Pilots Disappear On Bombing Run

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Two young Americans set out Halloween in a stolen plane from Fort Pierce, Fla., to bomb Havana, the Miami News said today. They never arrived.

In a copyright story by Hal Hendrix, Latin-American editor, the News said "two youthful American soldiers of fortune whose mission could have shaken the hemisphere far beyond the explosive power of their homemade bombs, are now missing."

The story continued: "Theirs was to have been a dramatic stroke of revenge for the summary execution of three Americans and 15 Cubans by the Castro government."

"They had even printed the names of the three Americans on the bomb casings that they filled with black powder and scrap iron. They carried a dozen 'Molotov cocktails,' too."

Whether their plane went down at sea, fell into Castro hands, crashed or landed in a remote area of Cuba or some other island is a question still to be answered, the News added.

Reds Deny Upset Rumor

Invasion Of Cuba Predicted

Says Move Aimed At the Election Of Dick Nixon

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—A Cuban prediction of an American invasion by Tuesday to help elect Richard M. Nixon president was shrugged off today as more propaganda from Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro in his war of nerves.

The State Department declined comment on the forecast by Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa Thursday night at the United Nations.

Nixon's press secretary, Herbert G. Klein, said: "I am sure the world will recognize this as just another case of a Castro man sounding off."

Roa also linked President Eisenhower's warning that the United States would defend its naval base at Guantanamo against attack with the American presidential campaign.

The Cuban diplomat charged again that the United States was plotting a provocation against the base as a pretext for "the armed invasion and occupation of Cuba."

Roa said Nixon's election depends on "another 'glorious victory' of North American imperialism in Cuba" and added: "It is logical to presume that this aggression must take place before Nov. 8."

Oops! Wrong Island

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—They had a big ceremony a week ago, dedicating a little island as the site of Miami's new port.

Thursday, a bulldozer began pushing down trees, clearing the land. Four acres had been worked before someone began making some calculations.

"Oops, wrong island," was the comment. Everything should have been on an island 500 feet to the west.

So Visitors May See

Second Open House At Jail On Sunday

Due to the outstanding number of visitors who turned out for the "Open House" at the Pettis County jail Sunday, despite a heavy rain, the County Court, on recommendation of civic-minded individuals interested in improving jail facilities, has decided to conduct an additional "Open House" Sunday.

The jail will be open from 2 to 4 p.m., with guides available to show visitors the many reasons for voting "yes" on the jail bond issue Tuesday. The issue calls for the issue of $175,000 in general obligation bonds to construct a new jail to replace the many-times-condemned, 92-year-old structure now in use.

Members of the 1960 Grand Jury called the jail and jailer's living facilities "atrocious." Members of the grand jury circulated petitions to obtain the signatures necessary for placing the bond issue proposal on the ballot. A committee of citizens headed by Harry Naegele is working to promote passage.

Last year three prisoners, charged with rape, assault and burglary, escaped from the jail by using eating utensils to scoop out a hole in the crumbling brick walls. As far back as 40 years ago, prisoners have broken out of the jail by digging through the walls.

Prisoners generally are not kept locked in cells 24 hours a day, since there are no lights in the cells. Authorities say no fixtures can be installed safely in the outmoded cell blocks.

Officials say rotting timbers in the partly wooden 2-story building constitute a fire hazard. An antique hot-air heating system also is considered a threat. Numerous grand jury reports have deplored the structure and it has been condemned.

Back in Prohibition days federal authorities ordered that no more federal prisoners would be committed to the jail because of unsafe and unsanitary conditions.

Although the average number of prisoners confined is about six or eight, at times more than 20 men have been crowded into the jail which is also used for women and juveniles. Mental patients are kept there sometimes, awaiting transfer to an institution.

Plans call for a modernistic 2-story structure meeting all state and federal standards to be constructed on the same site. A two-thirds majority is needed to pass the bond issue.

Demonstrations Claim 2 Lives In Chile Turmoil

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Two persons were killed and more than a score injured during demonstrations Thursday night as President Jorge Alessandri was explaining his anti-inflation fight over a nationwide radio broadcast.

Labor unions have been assailing Alessandri for months for refusing to grant wage increase. He did propose a 10 per cent wage increase two weeks ago, but he withdrew it when unions complained it was not enough to keep even with rising living costs.

Alessandri said during his broadcast that any sizable increase would send inflation spiraling higher again.

Reds Threaten American Fleet

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet army newspaper Red Star today threatened that the Soviet Union would blow up the American fleet if it sails too close to Soviet shores.

Soviet defenses were alert in October, the newspaper said, when NATO ships held maneuvers in the Aegean Sea and the Bosphorus Strait and visited Turkish Black Sea ports.

The Red Star article accused the United States of making repeated provocative gestures against the Soviet Union by patrolling the northern shores with nuclear submarines, fleet maneuvers and visits in the Mediterranean and elsewhere.

Power Struggle Called Nonsense

Vienna Paper Says Khrushchev Ousted, Malenkov Successor

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Completely unverified rumors of a government upset in the Soviet Union spread through offices of the Austrian government today and lead a Vienna newspaper to issue an edition carrying the banner headline:

"Struggle for power in Moscow, Khrushchev ousted, Malenkov successor."

Moscow denied the rumors. Its embassy here called the story "utter nonsense." The embassy at Bonn, Germany, used "stupid nonsense." The Soviet news agency office in New York spoke of "complete nonsense." These comments were concerted in their use of the word "nonsense." That seemed likely to be the word approved by Kremlin authorities.

The Moscow bureau of The Associated Press reported the Soviet capital gave every appearance of normal business, with no sign of government upheaval. Soviet officials in the West reported they had heard nothing to substantiate the rumors, and Western experts on the Soviet situation were skeptical that a coup had taken place.

The rumor as printed in Abend-Presse, Vienna's only evening paper, was that Georgi M. Malenkov, the man Khrushchev succeeded as premier, had taken over the government in a coup engineered by the anti-party group. This is the group of old Communists, including Malenkov, that Khrushchev tumbled from power in 1957.

The newspaper, crediting its story to "international circles" here, claimed that Communist China has had an important hand in the alleged upheaval.

Library Move Date Is Set At Boonslick

The Board of Directors of the Boonslick Regional Library today revealed the tentative date for the movement of the library headquarters in Sedalia from its present home at 602 South Ohio to a new building at Sixth and Lamine has been set for Dec. 1.

The move, as indicated in the decision, will depend on the progress of construction of the new building, being constructed by private capital according to specifications set up by the library board. Lane Harlan, Boonslick attorney, is board president. State laws governing the library program prohibit the construction of new buildings out of existing funds — a special bond issue would be required.

The library will occupy the new quarters on a long-term lease, according to Miss Jane Younger, librarian. The move was brought about by the expansion of library facilities, which out-grew the present quarters.

For the past six years, Miss Younger said, the library has occupied its present quarters, and during this time the inventory of books has doubled, the staff has increased one-third, and the bookmobile units have grown from one to two.

The result of this expansion was cramped working space, little room for patrons to read or examine books or other library facilities, and an unsuitable atmosphere in general. The new home will provide plenty of shelf space, roomier working conditions, and plenty of room in the public area.

The library is supported through a special tax levy on residents outside of Sedalia. Sedalians are served by the Public Library, or may, for a small fee, use the Boonslick Regional Library facilities.

Light Plane Crash Kills Five Persons

Pilot Loses Fight With Rainstorm; Falls On Freeway

ONTARIO, Calif. (AP)—A small plane piloted by a Los Angeles businessman fought for more than an hour to stay aloft in a rainstorm, then plunged onto a crowded freeway and exploded Thursday night.

Authorities said at least five persons were killed. The plane, piloted by wealthy auto dealer Robert A. Yeakel, 41, burst into countless small fragments near the east city limits of Ontario.

Four cars were struck by the hurtling wreckage, three of them demolished, according to witnesses. One motorist was fatally injured. All four persons on the plane were killed.

Yeakel, who tagged himself "The Lucky Dutchman" early in his business career, was a familiar figure on television which he used extensively for automobile advertising. He also was a desert land developer and in 1957 made an unsuccessful bid to become mayor of Los Angeles.

The plane plummeted from the rain-swept sky "like a shooting star," one witness said. It crashed on the shoulder of the San Bernardino Freeway, the main traffic artery from Los Angeles to inland cities to the east.

The crash scene was 25 miles east of Los Angeles.

Authorities said the victims, in addition to Yeakel, were his sons, Kenneth, 23, and Robert Jr., 14, and business associate Joseph Taylor, 41, of Newport Beach.

Yeakel's Piper Comanche apparently had been in trouble for some time. An hour and six minutes earlier, authorities said, it clipped power lines on the outskirts of Pomona, darkening a large area.

Red Is Free On Bail In Spying Case

NEW YORK (AP)—Igor Y. Melekh, United Nations secretariat employee accused of spying for the Soviet Union, goes free today on bail—but he is under federal court order to remain in Manhattan.

Melekh, 47, was ordered released Thursday in $50,000 bail pending a hearing next Wednesday on proceedings to move him to Chicago, where he was indicted with Willie Hirsch for allegedly seeking military maps and photographs of the Windy City for transmission to the Soviet Union.

The government vigorously protested the source of the bail money, which was produced in cash by two Soviet Embassy officials from Washington. The money was handed to Melekh's wife, Irina, who in turn gave it to the court.

U. S. Atty. S. Hazard Gillespie Jr. objected to the bail money coming from sources enjoying diplomatic immunity who could not be prosecuted if Melekh failed to appear for his Chicago hearing. He also objected to Mrs. Melekh posting bond.

Hear Talk By Reese Wade

Capacity Crowd On Hand For the Chamber Banquet

"As leaders of the community you are teachers," Reese Wade, assistant vice-president and studio manager, United Film Service, Inc., Kansas City, told the audience at the Chamber of Commerce annual banquet Thursday night, at Smith-Cotton Cafeteria.

Wade pointed out that people are a great deal more susceptible to suggestion than they think. That, he pointed out, is the reason that it is important what we teach, for what the next generation thinks, we teach.

Telling of a professor in journalism school who told his students to go to their own minds and find a fundamental attitude and the basic reason for it, Wade said. The professor wanted to know why we believe what we believe. Many make up our minds on likes and dislikes. Why? What is our reason for different religions? Have we gone below the surface in our beliefs?

This is important, the speaker said. Our fundamental attitude, for only as we think can we teach. Facts change but attitude should not change. It should be based on the solid life of integrity. We should be unchangeable in the things that don't change.

The meeting was presided over by William C. Hopkins, president, who made the annual award to the division that has done the most for the Chamber of Commerce and the city during the year. The plaque was presented to Maurice Hogan, chairman of the industrial division. The one new industry which has been brought in by this division is Steam-O-Matic. This new industry is now well on its way to being one with a great future for Sedalia. There are others that the division has been working on which they hope to bring here.

Hopkins stated he would like for people to spend a day at the Chamber and see the many things that the staff, composed of Jack L. Faber, secretary - manager; Mrs. Vivian Warren, office manager and Mrs. Barbara Jones, receptionist secretary, do. He listed only a few besides the industrial prospects, they have stopped swindlers, helped find homes for people looking for

Salary of Our Legislators

The time has come again for Missourians to consider the salary problem of their state legislators.

This time the matter providing a means for correcting it is in Amendment No. 2 which is among four amendments to the State Constitution on which the people will vote Tuesday.

A summary of this amendment reads:

"To provide that salaries of members of the Legislature may be fixed by law; that members of the Legislature shall receive 10 cents for each mile traveled in going to and returning from their place of meeting, twice per month, and necessary expenses not to exceed $10 per day; and that regular legislative sessions may continue until July 15 with no consideration of bills after June 30."

Under a constitutional provision voted by the people members of the General Assembly now are paid $125 per month the year 'round. They are allowed mileage for one trip to Jefferson City each session. The session runs from January 1 to May 31, adjournment on that date being mandatory.

Actually the pay approximates $4,000 per biennium because several years ago the Legislature voted to pay members $10 per day in expense money for each day they were recorded as being present at a session.

Undoubtedly $125 per month is not adequate pay for our legislators. This figure was established 18 years ago, frozen in the text of our constitution. Missouri is one of only 17 states that follows this practice, despite the shrinkage in the purchasing power of the dollar to 44 cents.

That's one of the arguments for a more flexible plan to remunerate our lawmakers. Proponents of Amendment No. 2 think this device will accomplish it. Opponents fear this privilege will tempt the solons to vote themselves excessive salaries. In other states this has not occurred. Pressures of public opinion would be against such action. Furthermore, any changes a legislature would make in the salary structure would only become effective in the session following enactment.

A good feature of Amendment No. 2 is that it would provide for sessions to continue until July 15 instead of ending May 31. This ought to alleviate the notable traffic jams during the waning days of every regular legislative session.

Another practical feature is the mileage allotment for legislators to be collected twice a month during sessions instead of only once per session. This would have the probable effect of increasing the number of round trips between the home towns of legislators and Jefferson City. Thus they would be in closer contact with their constituents. And certainly they should be.

This much can be said as an endorsement of Amendment No. 2: let us permit the legislature to have an opportunity to raise members' salaries to a figure equitable with the times. If at some subsequent session they abuse the salary-raising privilege in defiance of public opinion, then the voters know what to do about it at a next election—vote the rascals out. And if that doesn't succeed fast enough, then let the people repeal the constitutional provision. These are ready made safeguards.

So, let Amendment No. 2 receive a favorable vote Tuesday as an expression of the people's confidence that their legislators will not embark on a fast moving gravy train.

Kansas Senator Finds Rough Going

(EDITORS NOTE — Drew Pearson reports on an interesting race in the current election campaign.)

By DREW PEARSON

ENROUTE TO MIAMI — Out in Kansas shaggy-haired Sen. "Handy Andy" Schoepel, long a fixture on Capitol Hill, is facing the fight of his life on an issue which caused the surprise defeat of another Senate so-called "fixture," John Bricker of Ohio.

Bricker, who had been governor, senator and ran for vice president, was knocked out when Ohio voters became aroused over the huge fees drawn down by the Bricker law firm from the Pennsylvania Railroad and others with business before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee of which Bricker was ranking Republican member.

Now Andy Schoepel is ranking Republican member of the same committee and operates one of the most successful law firms in Kansas with some interesting clients whose welfare is affected by his committee. Andy's opponent, Frank Theis, has been pounding this home with such effectiveness that it has got under the bushy-browed Kansan's skin to the extent that he even called Theis a liar and denied that he, Schoepel, had been chairman of the Surface Transportation Subcommittee. Next day the AP confirmed the fact that Schoepel had been chairman in 1954-55.

THE STRAIN OF THE PRESIDENCY—The defeated candidate for President will have a consolation prize, barring accident. The loser will live longer than the winner.

The Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co. has looked back 60 years, and finds that the elected Presidents had a death rate 32 per cent higher than average for men of their ages, and the men they defeated had a death rate 30 per cent lower than expected.

This is a powerful searchlight on the stress and strain of the President's office. It puts to shame the mean sniping of a President for playing golf, poker or fishing.

"On the average," say the actuaries, "Presidents live 9.4 fewer years than their life expectancy at the time of inauguration."

And this is despite the fact that the President gets probably the best and most constant medical attention of any one in the country. He has a personal physician, and that physician, only one patient. In case of heart attack or surgery, the President's doctor is aided by the most famous specialists in the nation. Nevertheless, his life is shortened.

This points up the wisdom of the No Third Term Amendment. After eight years, the country cannot take the risk of a President's mistakes by an exhausted man.

The pressures will increase as the heads of state of a dozen little new "nations" come to Washington for cash. Protocol demands that the President meet them at the airport with open hands!

Ike's Tactics Against Kennedy Vary

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's tactics against Sen. John F. Kennedy vary in his campaign effort to help Vice President Richard M. Nixon win the presidency.

He has played it hot, and he has played it cool. Cool is more in the line of this master politician who now may be making the final political effort of his life.

Last Friday night in Philadelphia he scalded Kennedy a bit, although without mentioning his name. In his Wednesday night speech in New York Eisenhower used a cool feather duster.

The former had a touch of the campaign he himself made against Adlai Stevenson in 1952. The latter was like his campaign against Stevenson in 1956.

That cool technique—which really means don't be too harsh on the man—has worked extremely well for Eisenhower throughout his presidency. Still, it's questionable whether this is the right technique to help Nixon now.

What may be needed from Eisenhower at this time—if he is going to swing any votes when polls are saying Kennedy's ahead—is a slashing, direct attack on the senator. The Nixon camp reportedly would prefer that.

In Philadelphia, in statements which could be considered aimed at Kennedy without naming him, Eisenhower spoke against "arrogance," "rashness," "irresponsibility." None of this was in his New York speech. He made only one allusion to Kennedy—his contention that American prestige has dwindled.

If a successful politician can be described as a man who knows how to stay highly popular while getting himself re-elected, then Eisenhower is one of the master politicians of the 20th century.

The proof is his overwhelming victories, without any previous role in politics, in 1952 and 1956. There are some who think he would beat Nixon or Kennedy easily right now if he could run for a third term.

But one of the secrets of his political success has been his ability to stay out of personal embroilments. One way of doing it is to avoid personal attacks. To put it another way, to attack without name-calling.

Eisenhower has made a career of that technique in the presidency. This has pretty much compelled anyone, with an inclination to attack him personally, to lay off.

The greater part of Kennedy's campaign has been based on criticism of Eisenhower's administration. But Kennedy does not name the President and has carefully avoided any direct conflict with him.

This works both ways, of course, and may have a discouraging effect on any Eisenhower inclination to get savage with Kennedy.

Where does that leave Nixon in these last few days before election when apparently he feels the greatest need for Eisenhower to demolish Kennedy, if he can?

He seems caught in the middle between two political techniques—Eisenhower's and Kennedy's—which call for wounding without blood-letting.

It seems fair to conclude—judging from the way Eisenhower toned down his New York speech after the one in Philadelphia—that while the President wants to help Nixon, his campaign for him will be something short of all-out.

Children Need Balance In Parental Consideration

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence

On Saturday morning Mr. Davis announces his intention of driving downtown for a new storm-window sash. As he leaves the kitchen, his six-year-old son runs after him to ask: "Can I go too, Daddy?"

Mr. Davis gives him neither a "yes" or "no." Instead, as he unlatches the garage door, he says: "Go and ask your Mother."

Later, his daughter telephones from a friend's house to ask permission to remain there for supper. Again Mr. Davis refuses to make a decision. Into the telephone he says, "Just a minute. You'd better ask your Mother."

Sooner or later if he continues to evade the demands of his children, they will stop making any on him. And this development can become a nasty problem for them both.

Without knowing it, they will come to the conviction that women are the only ones who can fulfill their demands.

When she's grown up, Mr. Davis' daughter may be so convinced that it's hopeless to make a direct demand on her husband that she expresses her demands indirectly in nagging and complaints.

His son's expectations of male response to his wishes may be so crippled that he finds it impossible to demand a raise he has earned from a male employer—and spends his working life in discouragement and resentment.

By long and impressionable association with a father who makes mother the source of all permission, Mr. Davis' youngsters are going to have a rough time with men in the world.

It is as dangerous for fathers to make chronic use of the phrase "ask your mother" as it is for mothers to evade children's demands with a chronic "ask your father."

There are two sexes in this world. To get along in it we have to be able to make demands on both men and women.

If we are reared with the unconscious impression that one sex alone is the responsive, producing one, we become confused.

The son of the unresponsive father not only learns to lean on women but to distrust his own male productivity and that of other men.

The daughter of the unresponsive father learns to expect too much of herself and other women — and makes her inevitable protest at excessive responsibility by nagging men.

It is our childhood experience of our parents that defines man and woman to us. Mr. Davis' definition of man gives his children a pretty unfair one.

TAKING THE LOOT down to the Chamber of Commerce for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet loot bags, a woman left a big box of ballpoint pens. A few minutes after she left one of the girls in the office noticed that one of the pens looked different from the rest. She picked it up and looked at it and found it was an expensive pen, it was the woman's own personal pen that she had somehow dropped into the box.

"It's nice to be enthusiastic over this loot bag business," the Chamber manager told her, "but you didn't have to go that far—putting in your pen, too."—H.L.

Ruth Millett Says

No Book Needed to Know Rules for Social Climbing

One of the questions answered in a new book, "The Private World of High Society," according to the publicity, is:

"If you move to a new city, what's the quickest way to get to know society?"

No woman who has ever watched newcomers with social ambitions scramble to get in the swim "right away" needs to read a book to find the answer to that question.

The routine, almost invariably goes something like this:

First the couple joins the church that includes in its membership the greatest number of social leaders. Never mind whether that church happens to be the one they were brought up in or not. A real social climber can discard a church membership as easily as a circle of "outgrown" friends.

Next the husband (for social climbers usually are a pair, despite the husband's pretense that he is dragged along by his wife) pulls whatever strings he can to have his name put up for membership in the best country club or town club the town or city has to offer.

Then the wife carefully looks over the list of charity organizations to find out where she will best be repaid by correct contacts for devoting her time to good works.

She has to be cautious about this because if she isn't she may find herself working in a group that doesn't have any social prestige and all her do-gooding will do her no good socially.

Of course, the couple will choose a neighborhood where their children will go to the right school — and make the right friends.

And they will be very cautious about the friends they make — being only coolly polite to those who can't help boost their social standing and being utterly charming and flattering to those who are a few steps above them on the social ladder.

And they work on the theory that it always pays to be particularly attentive to the older women of the community who are socially well entrenched and who can "sponsor" a young couple if they are so inclined.

Nope, reading the book isn't necessary. The routine is well known to anyone who has watched closely even one couple determined to belong to the "right" social group, or die trying.

Points to Ponder if You Are Nearing Retirement

By FAYE HENLE

If you are on the threshold of retirement, this is what you should be doing:

Exploring your company to see what retirement counseling services they have to offer.

Setting up a retirement budget.

Exploring your community to see what health, recreational, housing and educational facilities exist for you.

Watching for a proposal to the next Congress—and supporting it—that will tie government pension payouts to the cost of living.

Supporting the proposal that government bonds will be redeemed with "adjusted dollars"—which means that if the cost of living goes up, your bonds will be paid off in dollars that will compensate for the declining buying power of your fixed income dollars.

These were answers I got at the 10th annual meeting of The National Committee on the Aging when I asked how people should prepare for retirement.

Answer No. 1 came from G. Warfield Hobbs, the committee's chairman and vice president on leave from New York's First National City Bank. Said Hobbs:

"It is important that those facing retirement be made aware that while they might have dreamed of golfing every day, they just won't be able to as the years creep up and that fishing as a daily routine can become a mighty bore."

He cited that many a company is putting 5 to 10 per cent of its payroll money into retirement funds but neglecting the all-important aspect of counseling which might cost them less than one-twentieth of 1 per cent.

The retirement budget suggestion came from Charles E. Odell, director of the retired workers department of the United Auto Workers, AFL-CIO. He pointed to a recent study by Cornell University urging that people must recognize there are things they will want to do when they are retired.

In order to fulfill these goals they must plan on where and how they want to live; they must know what they can count on financially when they retire and that they must know where to go for help if they need it for their health and happiness.

Odell pointed to the success of the union-sponsored day centers that provide educational and recreational facilities.

Hobbs cited Peoria, Ill., for having published a directory of community services for older folk. It was made possible by funds from community service organizations.

The proposal that pensions be tied to the cost of living might sound unworkable to you, but it was pointed out that this already is being done in nine European countries.

Discussing this, Mr. Hobbs, said that such a move would not be inflationary. Said he: "If pensions are tied to the consumer price index, the inflationary impact is less than one-twentieth as great as any wage adjustment made in behalf of price increases."

A National Council on the Aging, growing out of the present committee, will be launched next January.

SCOUT AIDE—Eagle Scout Kent L. Goering, 17, of Neodesha, Kan., has been selected as a junior scientific aide at Camp Century, built under Greenland's icecap 800 miles from the North Pole. He will assist in glaciology, meteorology and polar medical projects at the atomic-powered community, returning home next April.

Libel Suit Taken To High Courts

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A $500,000 libel suit judgment against the New York Times and four Negro ministers — an outgrowth of Alabama's racial troubles—was headed today for appeal to the higher courts.

Twelve white jurors in State Court Thursday awarded the record judgment to Montgomery Police Commissioner L. B. Sullivan, who said he was libeled by an advertisement which appeared in the Times.

The jury deliberated two hours and 10 minutes before returning the largest damage suit award ever handed down by an Alabama court.

Attorneys who represented the newspaper in the three-day trial said they will appeal to the Alabama Supreme Court.

The Times withheld comment on the verdict.

The Negro defendants whose names appeared in the ad — the Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy and the Rev. Solomon S. Seay Sr., of Montgomery, the Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth of Birmingham and the Rev. J. E. Lowery of Mobile—called it part of the price of their "struggle for freedom and dignity."

The suit by Sullivan was the first to be tried of four complaints filed by members of the City Commission and Gov. John Patterson because of the full-page advertisement which appeared in the Times March 29.

Soliciting funds for the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. before the Negro integration leader was acquitted on charges of lying about his state income taxes, the ad dealt in part with the handling of Negro college student demonstrations here last March.

Sullivan and the other public officials denounced the advertisement as false and malicious, and said it held them up to ridicule and shame.

County Clerk Is Speaker At Kiwanis Meet

If any Sedalia Kiwanian had an illusion that a county clerk didn't have much to do, it was dispelled at the club's meeting in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon when James H. Green, Pettis County Clerk, enumerated his and his staff's activities.

Green spoke for 30 minutes on his office's work routine and the problems arising therein, particularly with reference to handling election procedures the ramifications of which from registrations to balloting involve an amazing amount of detailed attention.

Kiwanians agreed they learned more about the county clerk's office than they ever knew before and participated in a question and answer period following Green's talk.

The speaker was introduced by James Harms, program chairman. Invocation was by the Rev. Roger Fjeld.

Singing was led by Abe Rosenthal with Miss Lillian Fox, accompanist.

Guests were: Kiwanian Ralph Severns, Mexico, Mo., with Myron Lindquist; Kiwanian Elmer Sterling, Gallup, N.M., former secretary of the local club; and State Senator Lee Bachelor, Anderson, Mo., with Henry Salveter.

Stokley Man Is Found Dead

Ellis R. Stapley, 74, near Stokely, was found dead on the floor of his home about 9 a.m. Friday by a neighbor, Fred Kalthoff, Route 2, LaMonte.

Kalthoff called the Pettis County Sheriff's office and Deputy Ed George and Pettis County Coroner Dr. Gordon Stauffacher went to the home.

Dr. Stauffacher ruled the death was from natural causes, probably from a heart condition Stapley had been suffering from for some time.

Mr. Stapley was last seen Thursday by children of Roy McCorkle, who took mail to the Stapley home. Deputy George said a light was on, leading the investigators to believe the death occurred sometime Thursday night.

A stepson, Delmar Fisher, Route 2, has been notified.

Attendants gave police the description of a man they believed may have committed the theft. He was said to be driving a short wheelbase truck of the type used to move mobile homes. The truck had an Indiana license plate, witnesses said, but they could not remember the number. It was not known in which direction the truck headed after leaving the station.

Prosecutor Harold Barrick requested Sedalia Police to notify the Missouri State Highway Patrol at Lee's Summit. Barrick said a warrant would be issued.

Mrs. Harry Sullivan, 2400 Albert Lee, reported Thursday night that someone threw two rocks through one of the windows in her home.

Thief of $35 was reported at the Swofford Service Station, Broadway and Limit, at approximately 4:15 Thursday afternoon. The money was stolen from the cash register it was reported to Sedalia police.

Smith-Cotton Gridsters are Hungry for New Victory

In Test With Lee's Summit Friday Nite

Men in Top Shape After Rolla Win, Edmondson Claims

Tonight at 8 o'clock the Smith-Cotton Tigers will meet the Lee's Summit high school football team on the Jennie Jaynes Stadium gridiron. It will be the next to the last game for the Sedalians, and local football fans should turn out in full force to see the lads in their "reformed" playing.

Last week at Rolla the 25-0 victory over the Bulldogs instilled into them what is believed to be a fighting confidence. Just what the Tigers can expect in the Lee's Summit game is hard to weigh as neither team has played a common foe, nor has any of the teams they have played met any of their previous foes during this season.

It is certain the visitors will endeavor to bolster the last part of the season, but the Tigers have a chance to come out with a fair record with a victory tonight and again next Friday when they meet Higginsville, once-beaten this season.

Coach Bob Edmondson discussing the team, declared it appears in as good condition as it was against Rolla, if not a little better. The team has had a week more practice under the quarterbacking of Tim Morgan, and they are fairly well used to his calling. The team members also are showing confidence in Morgan's judgment which will be a big asset.

Starting tonight on the line will be Spencer Fricke, and Jack Kenney at ends; Ernie Dow and Clairborn Campbell at tackles; Ronald Whitehead and Bennie Thomas at guards; with Larry Holdren in the center slot.

The backfield for the Tigers will see Tim Morgan calling signals at the quarterback position; Charles Case on the right halfback side and Jack Taylor taking left halfback slot. Stan Yount will be at fullback.

The spirit of the team Thursday evening during practice and in the dressing room after practice was that of a team hungry to win. Maybe this will be number four for the Tigers.

Will Weekend Prove Record Book Wrong?

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Can Colorado, Kansas, Iowa State and Kansas State prove the record books wrong?

The Colorado Buffaloes ignored the book a week ago when they upset Oklahoma 7-0. It was the first victory for Colorado over an Oklahoma team since 1912.

This week the Buffaloes play undefeated Missouri at Columbia in a game that could decide the Big Eight race.

And again the record would indicate the Buffs might face an uphill fight.

Colorado upset a favored Missouri team 21-20 last year. It was only the fifth time the Buffs had defeated Missouri in 24 games. The last time they won two in a row from the Tigers was in 1930-31.

Kansas defeated Nebraska the last three years but never has won four straight since the series began in 1892. They meet this year at Lawrence.

The outlook, according to the record book, is even more frustrating for Iowa State. Coach Clay Stapleton's squad plays Oklahoma at Ames. Iowa State has defeated Oklahoma only twice since the series began in 1928 and the Sooners have won 23 in a row.

Kansas State faces Oklahoma State before a homecoming crowd at Manhattan. The last time K-State turned in a victory in this series was in 1936.

Missouri and Colorado are tied for the Big Eight lead with 4-0 records.

The Jayhawks of Kansas are a half a game back at 3-0-1.

Oklahoma, although owning only a 1-1-1 record, could still win the title or at least a share of it.

However, both Oklahoma and Kansas are not eligible to accept a post season bowl bid. They are on probation in the NCAA.

Joe Brown Makes Record Title Defense

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—A record number of lightweight title defense has been made by champion Joe Brown, named the National Boxing Association's boxer of the month.

Brown's ninth lightweight defense was his Oct. 28 defeat of Cisco Andrade. He also knocked out Battling Torres earlier in the month.

NBA rating committee chairman Tony Petronella said the runner-up for the honor went to England's Terry Downes who outpointed Joe Giardello, Giulio Rinaldi of Italy for his triumph over Archie Moore and Jorge Fernandez who defeated Denny Moyer.

Jerry Walker Leads Big League Hurlers

NEW YORK (AP)—Jerry Walker of the Baltimore Orioles, a .169 hitter in 1959, led all major league pitchers in batting with a sizzling .268 average in 1960.

Walker, a switch-hitter, collected 14 hits in 38 times at bat, figures compiled by The Associated Press showed today.

Walker shared batting honors with Don Cardwell and Detroit's Frank Lary, Cardwell, who played for Philadelphia and the Chicago Cubs, had the most home runs among big league pitchers—five.

Undeafated Team Record On the Line

By BEN OLAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

Six major college football powers put their perfect records up for show Saturday and no matter how they roll the dice it will come up no higher than "five" when the action is completed.

That's because Iowa and Minnesota, two unbeaten-untied titans, meet head-on at Minneapolis in the big game of the day. Each is 6-0.

Missouri, Navy, Yale and Utah State also will be seeking to protect unmarred slates. New Mexico State, the seventh team with zeros in the lost and tied columns, is idle.

Iowa has knocked off the Gophers five times in succession. Yet, the top-ranked Hawkeyes are rated no better than one-point favorites to win the Big Ten battle.

Third-ranked Minnesota has yielded only 31 points while Iowa's opponents have scored 49. The Hawkeyes have piled up 161 points to Minnesota's 154.

Missouri (7-0) is favored by two touchdowns over Colorado in an important Big Eight game. Colorado has won five in a row since an opening loss to Baylor. However, the second-ranked Tigers have yet to give up more than one touchdown in any game this season. They've held their opponents scoreless in three games.

Duke is expected to give Navy considerable trouble. The Blue Devils have lost only to Michigan while recording five victories. The Middles, despite their 7-0 record and the presence of powerful Joe Bellino in their lineup, are favored by only a single point.

Yale, deadlocked with Princeton for the Ivy League lead, is a two-touchdown choice to down Pennsylvania (2-4). The Elis (6-0) rolled over Dartmouth 29-0 last week. Penn has not scored in its last two games.

A Sun Bowl invitation probably awaits the winner of the Utah State-Wyoming game. Utah State is 7-0 and Wyoming 6-1 for the season. Each has piled up five victories without a setback in Skyline Conference competition.

There should be plenty of fireworks elsewhere this weekend, starting tonight when Florida State will be at Miami, Marquette at Detroit and Richmond at George Washington.

Miami (3-2) is favored by 13 points over Florida State (3-3-1). Detroit has won its last five starts after losing its opening game to Iowa State. Marquette has dropped its last three. George Washington (2-3-1) looked good whipping Air Force 20-6 last week; Richmond (1-4-1) didn't while succumbing to Virginia Tech 20-0.

Saturday's competition will also highlight Syracuse's attempt to get back on the victory trail and an important Pacific Coast struggle between Washington and Southern California.

Syracuse (6-1) meets Army in New York's Polo Grounds. The Orange, which had its 16-game winning streak shattered by Pittsburgh last week, rules a touchdown choice over the Cadets (5-2).

Although Washington has an over-all 6-1 record and Southern Cal is 2-3, each is 2-0 in the Big Five and the winner could be headed for the league title and the Rose Bowl. Washington is a two-point favorite.

Pitt (3-2-2) is rated eight points better than Notre Dame, which has lost five straight after an opening game triumph over California.

Rice (5-1) appears to have its work cut out against Arkansas (5-2). This one could go a long way toward deciding the Southwest Conference race and the Cotton Bowl nomination. The odds-makers rate this one a toss-up. The same goes for the Tennessee-Georgia Tech Southeastern Conference meeting at Atlanta.

The Appomattox surrender terms provided that Confederate officers were to keep their side arms, which obviated Lee's having to offer Grant his sword.

Navy Glamor Grid Team In Bowl Picture

NEW YORK (AP)—Unbeaten Navy is the galmor team in the scrambled football bowl picture.

The Midshipmen are overwhelming favorites to the Rose Bowl if they don't stub their toes, and are eyed wistfully by the Cotton, Sugar, Orange, Gator, Gotham, Bluebonnet and Liberty bowls.

An upset victory by Duke over Navy this Saturday or Army over the Middles Nov. 26 would change all that.

Not far behind Navy in popularity come Mississippi, Tennessee, Duke, Pitt, and Syracuse. Of these all have been beaten at least once except Mississippi and Tennessee, and they've been tied.

Oddly enough the No. 1 team in the land, unbeaten Iowa, does not figure too much in bowl speculation. The Big Ten has severed its contract with the Rose Bowl but its members can still accept an invitation. However, Navy has so much sentiment in Pasadena that a bid to Iowa seems unlikely.

With the Big Ten no longer sure of a Rose Bowl invitation, and the Orange Bowl not committed to an Atlantic Coast Conference team and not necessarily to a Big Eight member, the bowl merry-go-round come December will be as mad as it was back in the 1930s. It is additionally complicated by the new and strong Bluebonnet, Liberty, and Gotham bowls.

Here's how the picture looks to sources close to the bowl managements:

Rose, Pasadena, Calif., Jan. 2 — Navy strongly favored with Washington the wst Coast entry. The two played a 14-14 tie in the Rose Bowl in 1924, and Navy beat Washington 15-14 on a late field goal early this season. Iowa might get the nod or Mississippi.

Cotton, Dallas, Jan. 2 — The Southwest champion — Rice, Baylor, or Arkansas—against Mississippi, Navy, Tennessee, Syracuse, Pitt, Duke or Alabama with Navy and Mississippi favored.

Sugar, New Orleans, Jan. 2 — Mississippi almost sure to be one of the teams, and Navy favored as the other. If Navy won't accept and Tennessee beats Mississippi Nov. 12, then it looks like Tennessee or Duke, if the Blue Devils beat Navy.

Orange, Miami, Jan. 2 — With Oklahoma and Kansas on NCAA probation and ineligible to represent the Big Eight, the Orange Bowl is only required to take a conference team if an eligible school, such as Colorado or Missouri, wins or ties for the title. For the other team, the Orange Bowl is scouting Mississippi-Tennessee Nov. 12, and Navy-Duke this Saturday.

Gator, Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 31—the winner of the Georgia-Florida game Saturday against Pitt, but Navy or Syracuse would be welcome and Duke, Tennessee and a Southwest runner-up are in the picture.

Liberty, Philadelphia, Dec. 17—Pitt or Syracuse against Duke with Army in the picture along with Georgia, Colorado and Oregon. Navy would also be welcome but it plays three games in Philadelphia.

Bluebonnet, Houston, Dec. 17—A top Southwest team and either Navy, Mississippi, Duke, or Tennessee.

Gotham, New York, Dec. 10—Syracuse favored, with attention to Navy, Pitt, Tennessee, Mississippi, Rice, Baylor, Arkansas, Oregon, Oregon State, and Wyoming.

Rival Bidding Groups Consider Purchasing A's

CHICAGO (AP)—Rival bidding groups from Kansas City and St. Louis appear at a hearing in Probate Court today on the proposed stock sale of the Kansas City American League baseball club.

If the 52 per cent of the stock, owned by the widow of former owner Arnold M. Johnson is sold, Probate Judge Robert J. Dunne must decide which of the rival offers is better.

Earl Smith, a member of the Kansas City faction, said his group had offered 3 1/2 million dollars for the club and he understood the St. Louis interests had bid about the same.

The former Mrs. Johnson, now the wife of Warren W. Humes of New York, is co-executor of the stock, along with the City National Bank of Chicago, which is seeking to sell it.

Mrs. Humes told Judge Dunne Thursday that she did not wish to sell. Her attorney, Milton Cooper of New York, filed a petition challenging the right of Judge Dunne to order the sale.

Missouri carries a seven-game winning streak into this showdown with once-beaten Colorado — and the game will rate top coverage by midwestern press and radio staffers, a national magazine, and two TV newsreel companies.

Both M.U. and C.U. are 4-0 in league play, and the winner should hit the stretch in choice position.

With both teams favoring a similar mode of attack, decisive line play could be the key to victory. Colorado uses its front-line huskies most of the way, while Ol' Mizzou has relied on a two-unit system this year.

Defensively, the Black and Gold is second nationally in rushing defense, with an allowance of 75.3 yards per game. The Bengals, unscored upon by rushing, also lead the nation in defense against scoring. They have given up just 4.4 points per game.

Tough on Gridiron, Classroom

Brainy and Bruising Guard Play in Mizzou-Buffs Game

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 3 — (Special)—There'll be brainy and bruising guard play on both sides when Missouri and Colorado grapple for the Big Eight's topmost football rung here Saturday afternoon.

Missouri is deftly led by Ron Taylor, the Chillicothe, Ill., smoothie, who's parlayed halfback sweeps, solid blocking and occasional passing into a souped-up attack that's averaged 30 points over an all-winning season thus far. Mel West, the nation's No. 4 ranked half-carrier, and slashing Donnie Smith—the Big Eight's top scorer with 34 points—have been the ramrodders.

Yet, the Tigers will feel a quarterback pinch this Saturday. Jim Johnson, No. 2 all year, is lost with a fractured thumb, and Skip Snyder—No. 1 safety—is probably out with a wrenched knee. On call, though, is Mike Hunter—a talented 180-pound newcomer from Alton, Ill., who hasn't yet seen any varsity action.

Two years ago, however, the quarterback outlook was bleak when Phil Snowden, ailing regular, sat out the first half of the Tiger-Buff game here while the invaders mounted a 9-0 lead. Then, his back encased in a fiberglass corset, Snowden sparked a five-touchdown second-half comeback by Missouri—and a 33-9 victory.

Garvis, Henley and Hertz—and Tom Smith, the fourth guard, have solidly sealed off M.U.'s middle all season. Moreover, they've led the downfield blocking blitz on those oft-called sweeps by the halfbacks.

Missouri carries a seven-game winning streak into this showdown with once-beaten Colorado — and the game will rate top coverage by midwestern press and radio staffers, a national magazine, and two TV newsreel companies.

Science Gets Its Turn On TV Screens

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP-TV Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Although I listened and looked hard Wednesday night at "The Thinking Machine," first in CBS' new "Tomorrow" series, I still don't understand how electronic computers work. But I do have a suspicion about where many of this season's crop of TV scripts are coming from: The mechanical brain at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The hour-long program set out to show us what wondrous things these electronic brains can do today—write original Westerns, all named "Saga;" play checkers with humans and beat them; translate from one language to another.

(Much of the program was concerned with the question of whether these machines could be made to think. Among the professors there was a wide range of opinion, including one that ultimately they would be perfected to a point where they could actually do creative work.)

It was an interesting program but it was hard to see why interviewer David Wayne kept asking if these "artificial intelligences" were not frightening. He seemed reassured when Dr. Jerome Weisner replied that if things got rough, one could always pull out the plug.

I was reassured by the professor, who remarked thoughtfully, that he didn't think his daughter "will marry a computer." Anyway, the program makes tomorrow sound interesting.

Although it is expected that a number of new fall television entries will sink without a trace in television channels around the first of the year, the first Nielsen ratings—based on the last two weeks of September—show that three early starters jumped right onto the charmed top 20 list.

CBS' "Tom Ewell Show" is in Nielsen's fifth place, between Red Skelton and "Father Knows Best." "Checkmate," also a CBS entry, is in 12th place and Fred MacMurray's "My Three Sons" on ABC rates as No. 15 in audience popularity. Bowler accused Hecht of "peddling a wild and unconfirmed rumor."

Misnomer

Though the milk snake frequents barns, it is attracted by mice, not cows. It was erroneously named because of the belief that it milks cows.

Burial Tomb Built By Oregon Man; Uses It as a Cabin

JUNTURA, Ore. (AP) — An eastern Oregon rancher has his tomb ready but until he needs it for his burial, Tom Goodwin, 63, says he will use the concrete structure as a hunting and fishing cabin.

Goodwin says he built the crypt because he has no relatives and wanted to make his own burial arrangements.

He recently sold his 6,240-acre ranch 33 miles northwest of Juntura, but said the sales agreement gives him the right to be buried in the tomb and hunt and fish on the ranch as long as he lives.

British Actor Baby-sitting In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Thirty years late, John Mills has made it to Hollywood for—of all things—a job of baby-sitting.

One of England's most distinguished actors, Mills has never made a film in Hollywood.

"Sax wanted me to come here to play in 'Cavalcade,'" he recalled. "It was a temptation. After all, I would have played the role I created in England, which Noel Coward wrote for me."

"But the studio wanted me to sign a straight seven-year deal. That frightened me. I had only been on the stage for 18 months. I decided to stay in England and learn my craft. I remained in the theater for 10 years, and I've never regretted my decision."

What brings him to Hollywood now? None other than his talented daughter Hayley, a sensation as a new "Pollyanna." Mills has enjoyed a rare two-month vacation while his 14-year-old has been making her second film for Walt Disney, "Petticoats and Blue-jeans." Her father also starred for Disney in "Swiss Family Robinson," made last year in the West Indies.

Mills and his playwright wife had a spot of lunch and talked about their talenter family. Juliet, 18, is also an accomplished actress, having appeared on Broadway in "Five Finger Exercise." Not yet on the boards is Jonathan, 10, although he made an excellent test for Disney.

I asked the actor if he had any apprehension about becoming known as "Hayley Mills' father."

"That would never happen—not in England, anyway," Mrs. Mills assured.

"But I wouldn't care if it did," her husband said airily. "Hayley is a fantastic performer."

HALF AND HALF — Senta Berger, 20-year-old Viennese actress, doesn't mind at all being described as half "MM" and a half "BB." The film newcomer who appears with Richard Widmark in "Secret Ways," thinks the comparison with Monroe and Bardot fine.

Queen's Ancestry

Ancestry of England's Queen Elizabeth II has been traced back to Woden, 4th century Germanic tribal king, for whom Wednesday is named. Woden later was deified as Odin.

Debbie Debut A One-woman Show on TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP-TV Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Debbie Reynolds of the motion pictures made her television debut Thursday night on ABC with a special hour's program that was practically a one-woman show.

Miss Reynolds is a cute, vivacious, sweet-faced young woman who dances well and sings appealingly. But except for a moment here and there, it was a dull and uninspired hour.

The trouble was that Debbie didn't have much good material with which to demonstrate her talents.

Her imitation of Zsa Zsa Gabor doing a little cooking and laundry was amusing and her solo impression of a teen-ager on her first date was another bright spot.

Walter Brennan and Chas. Ruggles turned up in a tedious sketch which didn't improve when they all sang and danced. The sets were undistinguished, the music and dance numbers were pedestrian.

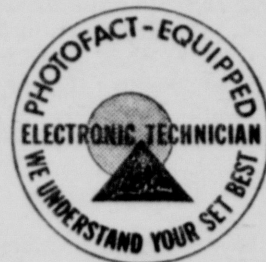

We have been hearing about the large amount of money spent for the program, $250,000 to $300,000 were the figures mentioned, and the program was alleged to have taken much work to put together.

Neither the expenditures nor the effort showed.

With the return of Goodman Ace to the Perry Como fold, the NBC weekly variety show has taken on a fine gloss. Wednesday night's show was a particularly handsome one—including the attractive and talented guest stars Andy Williams, Jane Powell and Thelma Ritter. Highlight of the show each week is that beautifully photographed windup when Como climbs onto his stool and sings. But I wish Ace would do something about that tiresome cute talk between Como and the unseen Frank Gallup.
